Corp., speaking on behalf of Arizona Right to Life. She has spoken nationwide to thousands of people at many churches, schools and organizations about modesty, chastity, pro-life issues, and marriage. Melanie is currently the virtue speaker for Phoenix Pure Fashion, a speaker for the Diocese of Phoenix God's Plan for Marriage Program, a speaker for Steubenville Youth Conferences, and a board member for Phoenix Natural Family Planning. To help people send positive and pro-life messages with their clothing, she created a clothing line called "Refuge Clothing Co." (www.refugeclothing.com).

Fr. John Parks

Fr. John Parks is a priest of the Diocese of Phoenix. He was born and raised in Arizona where he attended Catholic grade school and high school before studying Theatre at Arizona State University. After earning his B. A. in Theatre in 2005, he decided to enter the seminary because he felt that God was calling him. After 5 years at St. Meinrad Seminary in Indiana, where he received two Master's degrees, he was ordained to the priesthood in June of 2010. Fr. Parks has a heart for youth ministry because he came to really know the Lord and embrace his Catholic faith when he was 15 years old. Fr. Parks continues to love theatre and movies and recently appeared in docudrama "The Rite of Exorcism: Myth, Mystery, and Hope"—where he played a priest performing an exorcism. He has spoken about chastity for the last 10 years and loves to break open God's incredible message of salvation for the people of God.
